

ROUND SCHOOL WINS BY 9 VOTES

Despite vigorous objections by the superintendent of schools, the chairman of the board of selectmen, the school committee, teachers, and parents, plans for the circular school for the off Glen Rd. site was approved at the special town meeting Monday evening.

Although the original motion was for an increase in the appropriation in order to allow payment of bills incurred by the previous building committee, an amendment by Supt. of Schools

John Collins drew a vote on the design of the building.

Mr. Collins offered an amendment which would raise the appropriation still more and specify that the school be of conventional design rather than the nearly circular plan chosen by the building committee. The March vote gave the committee $400,000 with which to construct the school, $50,000 extra was needed for the old bills, and Mr. Collins' amendment called for an additional $20,000.

Former Town Manager Joseph

Courtney, now a member of the permanent building committee which offered the original motion, gave a brief history of the background of the school.

Chairman of the committee Erwin Hanke, and members Vincent McLain, Paul Niles and Raymond McClure explained in turn the workings of the committee and the steps it has taken in choosing an architect and working out a set of plans which would be within the $400,000 and still provide a good school plant without compromising on quality. It was also explained that the plan chosen would serve as a model for future school buildings, thus effecting a 75% saving on architects' fees.

Supt. Collins then listed his objection to the round school. The shape of the classroom would, he said, cause glare on portions of the blackboards and tack boards. The location of the kitchen across the curved corridor from the cafeteria he also found objectionable, as it would cause the children to carry trays across the line of traffic. He added that the plan did not lend itself to adaptation; a larger school would call for an addition joined on by a corridor; a smaller school would mean cutting out a wedge shaped portion of the school.

After much discussion pro and con on every angle of design and construction, the amendment was voted on, 107, yes; 116, no.

A vote on the original motion carried, 193, 1.

Two hundred and thirty seven voters attended the meeting.

Arthur Bureau Named Retarded Children's Fund Chairman

Harold E. Trekel of Wakefield Pres. of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children announced this week that Arthur Bureau of 18 West St., Wilmington will serve as Fund Drive Chairman of the 1958 Campaign for Retarded Children in this area.

"It is a great privilege," stated Mr. Bureau, "to accept the leadership of a campaign which is dedicated to the noble purpose of providing funds to aid handicapped children. We are all aware of the tremendous strides forward which the association for retarded children has made in providing programs for the mentally retarded in our community. Only a few short years ago, these unfortunate boys and girls were destined to the scrap heap, neglected and ignored by those of us who did not understand their capabilities."

"Demonstration programs by parent associations and other community agencies have proven dramatically that retarded children can enjoy productive and satisfying lives. We have seen that they receive the same benefit from recreation programs as do their more normal brothers and sisters; they do benefit from special education techniques; an increasing number of the retarded are being placed in gainful employment. The help which we provide is returned to us manyfold through the contributions that the retarded are making as good citizens."

Funds raised by the local campaign are used for the sponsorship of such programs as nursery care clinics, recreation, social training, parent counseling, and vocational training. The local association also contributes scholarship funds for professional training of physicians, psychologists, and social workers entering the field of mental retardation, and funds for research to seek the causes and possible cure of the condition.

Highlight of the local campaign will be a gigantic door-to-door canvass for funds on Sunday, Oct. 5 which has been proclaimed as "A Day for Donnie," "Donnie," a young Newton, Mass. boy, has been selected as a symbol for the 140,000 individuals in the Commonwealth who are afflicted with this handicapping condition.

Mr. Bureau stressed that the success of the campaign depends on the recruitment of an army of volunteers who will call upon their neighbors on Sunday, Oct. 5 to seek funds for the improvement and expansion of services to the retarded.

Any individual who wishes to participate in the campaign is requested to volunteer by calling Mr. Arthur Bureau at OLiver 8-4900.

NORTH WILMINGTON POST OFFICE JOINS WILMINGTON NOV. 1

On Nov. 1, the North Wilmington Post Office will become a classified station of the Wilmington Post Office. All mail for North Wilmington will be routed through the main office except mail for North Wilmington which is mailed at No. Wilmington. A supervisor will be appointed to take charge of the new station.

Mail deliveries for the patrons of the new station will emanate from that office. Due to this consolidation, the department is hopeful of bettering the service, as the station will come under first class office regulations.

Postmaster Henry Porter is not in a position to state just what changes will be made at this time, but will be able to determine service changes after a survey has been made.

Mr. Porter has been the Postmaster at Wilmington for the past 24 years, and is cognizant of the rapid growth that is taking place in this town. He stated that he will make every effort to give the people of Wilmington and North Wilmington the service that is rightfully theirs.

Five-Hundred Persons Share In Opening Service Of Worship In New Wilmington Methodist Church

At the special service of worship for the opening of a new church for divine worship some people were in attendance. It was a great occasion for themselves and friends of the church who have worked, prayed and given that such an hour would be possible in their lives. The senior choir of thirty voices processed to one of the great hymns of the church, "Holy, Holy, Holy," and set the mood for a truly inspirational service.

Assisting the Rev. E. Harding Wood, local preacher of the church, Rev. Herbert Coombs, retired Methodist Minister of the New England Conference, and Rev. Stanley Kenderine, retired Methodist Minister of the North Iowa Annual Conference. Mr. Harding preached on the topic: "Thine is the Glory" suggesting to the worshipping congregation that above all else God deserves the glory for an occasion such as this. "God has not stood aloof from our efforts but he has been involved with us every step of the way." "Any other concept of God in an undertaking such as this would be undervaluing of our devotion. The Psalmist of old speaks what we certainly feel. 'Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it.' And because the God of our faith as we see him revealed in Jesus of Nazareth."

Mr. Harding went on to say that the church must have a platform, must have a forthright proclamation for the community and the world. In stating this he shared the words of Jesus first sermon as being the purpose and program of the Christian Church.

"The church who does not accept this as its fundamental reason for existence which cease to be a true witness of the Christ we serve. This is the Church's platform as I see it. 'To preach good news to the poor, to proclaim release to the captives and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.'"

The pastor then went on to relate these words of Jesus to the day in which we live, saying "the improvement and mediocre church that speaks to men wants rather than this, this is being unfaithful to her calling." The sermon was concluded with the reading of the words from Isaiah: "Grace and God of Glory" which the congregation sang at the conclusion of the worship hour.

I. A. U. Hi-Lites

On Wed. evening, Sept. 10 at 7:30 pm, Chapter 106 will present a variety show at the Bedford Hosp. Auditorium for the patients of the hosp. This is a joint effort by the chapter and auxiliary and should be one of the biggest events of the year. The show will be under the direction of Commander William J. White, Jr. and will feature some of Wilmington's best talent plus a group supplied through the efforts of the Gloucester Chapter. Many of our auxiliary will attend and serve refreshments to the audience which will consist of the hosp. patients. All Chapter and Auxiliary members are invited to attend and help make this night a great success.

Casey, recent cookout was a grand success for those who attended. Many DAV State, Dept., dignitaries attended and assured us that they had a grand time. The chapter deeply appreciates the assistance of everyone who helped to make the affair an enjoyable one.

At the last chapter meeting there were some changes made in the chapter roster of officers. James Shine was appointed Chapter Service Officer and Jim Simpson Officer of the Day. Jim Shine will be our liaison man with our National Service Officer to take action on any problems that may arise on any of our members.

Rep. Thomas Donahue visited the chapter at our last meeting and was very impressed with our organization. He spoke of the importance of the DAV to the community and wished us well in all our endeavors.

Rotary Works For International Understanding

Rotary Clubs in 110 countries and geographical regions through the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Henry Kozlowski of Lynn, governor of district 793 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Wilmington, Wed. Aug. 27, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of the more than 9,800 Rotary clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Kozlowski explained, Rotary International has awarded grants of more than $2,600,000 in the past 11 years through its program of student fellowships which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 1,076 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to students in 65 countries for study in 43 countries. This year District 793 has selected a Rotary Fellow, Stephen G. Nichols Jr. from Winchester to study at the University of Aix-Marseille, France.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 462,500 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of different nationalities or languages or political and religious beliefs," the Rotary district governor emphasized.

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Mr. Kozlowski continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary clubs in this district, which includes 35 Rotary clubs in Eastern Massachusetts, on Community Service."

"The 1958-59 program of Rotary International is expressed in the slogan 'Help Shape the Future.' We should take a long, bold look at the most important problems facing our local communities. Then, by thoroughly studying and discussing these problems and adopting the approved ones, we will be helping to carry out this objective," he said.

Governor Kozlowski urged the local Rotarians to attend the Fall Conference at Poland Spring, Maine, October 1-5, and the Rotary district conference to be held in Swampscott in April of '59, and to make plans for the club to be well represented at the 50th annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in New York City, next June.

Speaking Of Pets.... Are You Killing Your Dog With Kindness?

Next time you're poised over the dog's dish with a heap of luscious-looking table scraps, stop for a moment to consider this sobering fact: the very same diet that is best for your family may subtract years from the life of your dog.

According to the Pet Food Institute, authorities in the field of canine nutrition are unanimous in their agreement that a regular feeding of nutritionally inadequate table scraps or other foods meant for human consumption will shorten a dog's life.

When the dog is regarded as a member of the family as is true in so many of our homes, it is difficult to convince some owners that Fido really is a dog, not a human, and that he has many food requirements which differ from ours.

Those who feed the dog left-over scraps from the table usually do so because "mother always fed our dogs scraps and they got along fine." However, they forget that the dogs at that time didn't live very long as a rule, and most families had a number of dogs over a period of several years.

The A.S.P.C.A. estimates that the average dog lives twelve years today as against seven years in 1930. Much of this increase in life expectancy may be credited to the work of those in the field of dog nutrition.

As much as we enjoy giving our dogs the tidbits which they find so delectable, it is a fact that a scientifically prepared dog food will provide them with a longer, healthier and happier life. The average person who believes that his dog is healthy has no way of determining the effect of various diets on his dog's growth, disposition and longevity. These are things which can be measured only in medical laboratories and research kennels maintained by leading manufacturers of dog foods.

If you wish your dog to live longer, be healthier and more intelligent, it becomes essential to provide him with a regular diet of either canned or dry dog food (or both), one that is sold by a reputable manufacturer. This food, when given in the proper amounts, will provide your dog with all of his nutritional requirements. Fortunately, modern dog foods are as palatable as they are nourishing, and most dogs eat them even more eagerly than they gobble up leftovers.

The widespread theory that dogs crave variety in their food has been disproved through intensive testing. Your dog may prefer one type of prepared dog food over another, but he will almost certainly like best the food that has been fed to him regularly over the longest period of time.

To switch your dog from brand to brand of dog food, use this simple method. Use only the prepared food. If he refuses to eat, remove the food and don't feed him again until his next regular mealtime. Dogs can go without any food at all for at least three or four days without any ill effects, so you needn't worry about starving him. When he becomes hungry enough, he will eat the food, and will continue to eat it if you stick to your schedule. Experiment with different amounts to discover how much he will eat readily. In this way, he will determine by himself the proper amount of food he needs.

"BEWITCHED, BOTHERED AND BEWILDERED" goes the song, and so we when the temperature's off beat. And it seems that is most of the time. In summer it's too hot, in winter it's too cold—but the house is too hot. What a dilemma. Or is it? We seem to forget that we can now control the air year 'round.

Each summer sees more of us living in air-conditioned houses, eating in air-conditioned restaurants, bowling in air-conditioned alleys. Then winter rolls around and we begin grumbling about steam heat and drafts, flushed faces and cold feet, dried-out skin and stiff necks. It's almost as if we wanted to suffer. Well, it's time to stop all this nonsense. Year 'round air-conditioning means we can be comfortable winter as well as summer, and dispositions will no longer resemble the pickle.

John W. Norris, President of Lennox Industries, and a noted authority on central air-conditioning, has this to say on the subject of temperature: "Excessive heat and humidity are known depressants, and this has nothing to do with what month of the year it is. You can be just as miserable in January as July. But year 'round conditioning of the air you live with takes the load off your mind as well as your body. It acts as a permanent tranquilizer to frazzled nerves—a thing no pill can do for more than a couple of hours."

ROUND SCHOOL WINS BY 9 VOTES

Despite vigorous objections by the superintendent of schools, the chairman of the board of selectmen, the school committee, teachers, and parents, plans for the circular school for the off Glen Rd. site was approved at the special town meeting Monday evening.

Although the original motion was for an increase in the appropriation in order to allow payment of bills incurred by the previous building committee, an amendment by Supt. of Schools

John Collins drew a vote on the design of the building.

Mr. Collins offered an amendment which would raise the appropriation still more and specify that the school be of conventional design rather than the nearly circular plan chosen by the building committee. The March vote gave the committee $400,000 with which to construct the school, $50,000 extra was needed for the old bills, and Mr. Collins' amendment called for an additional $20,000.

Former Town Manager Joseph

Courtney, now a member of the permanent building committee which offered the original motion, gave a brief history of the background of the school.

Chairman of the committee Erwin Hanke, and members Vincent McLain, Paul Niles and Raymond McClure explained in turn the workings of the committee and the steps it has taken in choosing an architect and working out a set of plans which would be within the $400,000 and still provide a good school plant without compromising on quality. It was also explained that the plan chosen would serve as a model for future school buildings, thus effecting a 75% saving on architects' fees.

Supt. Collins then listed his objection to the round school. The shape of the classroom would, he said, cause glare on portions of the blackboards and tack boards. The location of the kitchen across the curved corridor from the cafeteria he also found objectionable, as it would cause the children to carry trays across the line of traffic. He added that the plan did not lend itself to adaptation; a larger school would call for an addition joined on by a corridor; a smaller school would mean cutting out a wedge shaped portion of the school.

After much discussion pro and con on every angle of design and construction, the amendment was voted on, 107, yes; 116, no.

A vote on the original motion carried, 193, 1.

Two hundred and thirty seven voters attended the meeting.

Arthur Bureau Named Retarded Children's Fund Chairman

Harold E. Trekeil of Wakefield Pres. of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children announced this week that Arthur Bureau of 18 West St., Wilmington will serve as Fund Drive Chairman of the 1958 Campaign for Retarded Children in this area.

"It is a great privilege," stated Mr. Bureau, "to accept the leadership of a campaign, which is dedicated to the noble purpose of providing funds to aid handicapped children. Funds raised by the local campaign are used for the sponsorship of such programs as nursery care clinics, recreation, social training, parent counseling, and vocational training. The local association also contributes scholarship funds for professional training of physicians, psychologists, and social workers entering the field of mental retardation, and funds for research to seek the causes and possible cure of the condition.

Highlight of the local campaign will be a gigantic door-to-door canvass for funds on Sunday, Oct. 5 which has been proclaimed as "A Day for Donnie." "Donnie," a young Newton, Mass. boy, has been selected as a symbol for the 140,000 individuals in the Commonwealth who are afflicted with this handicapping condition.

Mr. Bureau stressed that the success of the campaign depends on the recruitment of an army of volunteers who will call upon their neighbors on Sunday, Oct. 5 to seek funds for the improvement and expansion of services to the retarded.

Any individual who wishes to participate in the campaign is requested to volunteer by calling Mr. Arthur Bureau at OLIV-8-4900.

NORTH WILMINGTON POST OFFICE JOINS WILMINGTON NOV. 1

On Nov. 1, the North Wilmington Post Office will become a classified station of the Wilmington Post Office. All mail for North Wilmington will be routed through the main office except mail for North Wilmington which is mailed at No. Wilmington. A supervisor will be appointed to take charge of the new station.

Mail deliveries for the patrons of the new station will emanate from that office. Due to this consolidation, the department is hopeful of bettering the service, as the station will come under first class office regulations.

Postmaster Henry Porter is not in a position to state just what changes will be made at this time, but will be able to determine service changes after a survey has been made.

Mr. Porter has been the Postmaster at Wilmington for the past 24 years, and is cognizant of the rapid growth that is taking place in this town. He stated that he will make every effort to give the people of Wilmington and North Wilmington the service that is rightfully theirs.

New Crusader Owner

Mr. Henry Fillipone, new owner of the Wilmington Crusader, is shown above.

The Crusader, a familiar sight for many years in the homes of Wilmington, has adopted a new policy under Mr. Fillipone, which includes printing by the photo-offset method. This type of newspaper printing will facilitate the use of many pictures and provide easier handling without increase in publication cost.

Mr. Fillipone pledges his entire efforts to provide Wilmington with the finest in fair newspaper reporting.

A native of East Boston, Mr. Fillipone has resided in Wilmington for 10 years. A marine corps veteran, he is an active member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans, and has long been active in civic and community affairs.

He lives on Hopkins St. with his wife Rita, and five children. Henry, recently returned from duty with the Marine Corps, Ronald, currently serving with the Air Force in Turkey, Edward, junior in Wilmington High school, Leonard, fifth grade student, and Elaine, a fourth grader.

Dignitaries Attend . . .

Post #136 Legion Installation Of Officers

Thurs. evening Sept. 11, at the Wildwood School, the installation of new officers of Post #136 took place.

The program began with the out-going officers greeting the new officers of the Auxiliary. The Preamble to the Constitution was recited by all.

Visiting members of surrounding towns were the installing officers and the program was very impressive.

After installing the new auxiliary officers, the new men of officers, were installed with formality. Eugene Sullivan, is the new commander of Post #136, while Rose Zwicker is the auxiliary.

Visiting units from Melrose, Lexington and Acton were in attendance to honor the occasion. Drill teams did justice to the new officers as being honor guards.

Honorary Guests included: Edith Nourse Rogers, Wavie Drew, George Spanos, Honorable Judge William H. Henchey, and Father Croke giving the benediction.

Corses and flowers were presented to the notables and newly elected commander of the Auxiliary.

MINORITY RULE

It is becoming increasingly easier to predict the outcome of the vote on any controversial subject to come to vote of the town at a town meeting. In order to almost unerringly forecast the vote, it is merely necessary to ask the opinion of one of a certain group who are active in civic affairs, and by asking one, find the feeling of the body, their vote at the town meeting, and consequently the vote of the town meeting.

Whether the vote is right or wrong; whether it serves best the interest of the town, is not the subject of this particular discourse. The point to be brought out here is that the town is being controlled by a small minority.

Perhaps it is possible that this group is always right. However as unlikely as that is for any group, or person it is wrong for a hundred or so people to so control a town of 11,000 people.

Why do they do so? Merely because the rest of the town is uninterested in taking the trouble to attend meetings and vote.

At Mondays special town meeting, 237 voters attended. The issue was a school. There are over 2000 children enrolled in school here. Can this mean that the average family has 18 or so children in school?

It means one thing. A small group is in rigid control of many of the town policies and a large part of the town finances. There is nothing wrong in it, but it is very surprising that there are not enough people in a town this size, interested enough to band together and oppose this powerful group.

TRAFFIC JAM

The town manager said this week that he would not rush into anything "blindly" but would wait until the state department of public works conducts a traffic survey here before he considers a transfer of funds within the police department budget in order to appoint an additional officer.

Despite the plea from chief of police Paul Lynch that he is badly in need of men, the town manager seems to feel that the state agency's recommendation is needed before he can comply with the chief's request.

It is obvious to the most casual traveler through Wilmington at peak hours that a serious situation exists. The impact of traffic from Avco at 4:30 hits the town at a time when traffic through the town always constituted a problem. Now the added flow through the town, part of it crossing the flow from Boston to enter Woburn St. to travel toward Lawrence, has come at a time when construction equipment for the new Rte. 28 is active in the same vicinity trucks are hauling concrete for the sewerline on Woburn St. and another company's heavy trucks are hauling gravel across Wilmington to a plant in North Woburn.

Householders are actually finding it wise to plan their day's activities around the peak traffic hours.

Between 4 and 6:30 a man is needed to direct traffic at Wilmington Center. A man is needed for the crosswalk at the RR station. A man is needed at Woburn and Lowell Sts. There are only three men on duty. The cruisers are left unmanned, a fireman is left in charge of the station. A resident with a complaint has a right to be able to call the police station and find an officer on duty at all times.

In the months needed to conduct a traffic survey, some of the problems will ease themselves naturally; but a very serious situation will still exist and the time has come to speed any possible solution, not delay it.

POLLING HOURS TOO SHORT?

During the war it was common to find many plants operating around the clock, and schedules were adjusted to allow for people on the various shifts to be inconvenienced as little as possible. Since the end of the war, most of us have drifted back into more or less "normal" working hours.

It was rather surprising to find last week how many people work evenings, from 3-11, 5-11, 2-10, 4-12, etc. The night shift population was heard from in no uncertain terms as they registered protests about being, as one gentleman put it, "denied their right to vote".

Wilmington's short polling hours for the state primaries last Tuesday, from 4-8 p.m., left a good number of workers unable to vote unless they took a night off, highly undesirable practice from any standpoint.

Another couple is reported to have appeared at the high school cafeteria early in the day and finding the polls not open, returned again shortly after eight, expecting to find the polls open until 10.

While it is only necessary legally to hold voting for two hours, it certainly is not ethical. Wilmington is not so poor that it can't afford to open its polling places long enough for everyone to have the opportunity to vote.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By HANK FILIPPONE

Tony Joannides takes some beautiful polaroid shots -- even though it takes him two rolls to get started -- Observed Doc Chernoff trying to dance with his broken ankle in a cast -- By far, the best home baked beans I've eaten in years were the ones that Mrs. DeLisle donated to the Lions' Ladies Food sale on Saturday -- Paul Lynch changing over to his fall season Stetson -- Tex Johnson driving his little red Fiat sports car -- The mixed expressions on the kiddies faces going to school on opening day.

What makes me feel good about our policemen is the fact that you never see them smoking in public while on traffic duty. As we see in some surrounding towns -- and if you're driving through our town in the wee hours of morning, you're almost certain to be checked.

Getting people to vote during the primaries is an almost impossible task -- By setting the hours at 4 to 8 p.m. at the recent primary, our selectmen certainly didn't help make it any easier.

Democrats Prepare For Luncheon

Mrs. Frances Perkins will be the guest speaker at the Annual Fall Luncheon of Women on Wheels, State Democratic women's organization. The Luncheon will be held in the Terrace Room of the Hotel Statler on Sat., Sept. 27 and will honor the candidates for state-wide offices.

Mrs. Perkins, former Sec. of Labor, during the administration of Franklin Roosevelt, is now living in New York City and is teaching at Cornell. She has kindly consented to replace Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as guest speaker on Sept. 27, as the latter must now be in Europe on that date.

Mrs. John D. Nagle of Belmont and Mrs. John P. Walsh of Walpole are Co-chairmen of the luncheon which will include a Fashion Show featuring the styles of Charles Summer of Newbury St., Boston, and the theme, "It's Smart To Be A Democrat."

This will be the first large Democratic function following the Primary.

Guests at the affair will be Senator and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Governor and Mrs. Foster Furcolo, Lieutenant-Gov. and Mrs. Robert F. Murphy, the Democratic nominees for state-wide offices and their wives and the Democratic nominees for Congress and their wives.

Trying to save expenses found the counters still working at 12:20 midnight and only 794 votes balloted. Lets hope our selectmen decide to be a little more generous at election day, and we'll all get home early.

A thing of efficiency and beauty is our new civil defense rescue truck, and a tip of the hat to Renee Larive, C. D. Director for obtaining the truck for the town.

Avco will be inspected by top ranking executives next week -- Popular Charlie McPhail passing out cigars, all on his first born, a son -- Alan Fenton polling all those sticker votes in the last primary.

When I think of all the intelligent men in this town, I wonder if they would have all been geniuses if they were taught in a circulated school instead of the old type square schools? Unless kids have changed, since I went to school, no amount of dressing up -- or fancy school rooms, tinted glass windows, or private washrooms will make school more attractive.

Wilmington Adult Evening School 1958-1959

Registration will be held in the High School cafeteria on Monday, September 22 and Tuesday, September 23 from 7:00-9:00 p.m.

The registration fee of $1.00 per course will be collected the evening of the first class.

Classes meet once a week for twenty weeks except - Cake Decorating for five classes; Short-hand, Typing, Practical Mathematics and Bookkeeping classes meet twice each week for twenty weeks.

The course shall be open to all adult citizens of Wilmington, and as facilities permit, to out-of-town residents.

Each class shall have a minimum of 15 registrants.

Enrollment shall be accepted in each class until its quota is filled. Others who wish to register may place their names on a waiting list and will be notified when a vacancy occurs.

Each student shall provide his own materials but necessary heavy equipment, such as, sewing machines, grinding and brazing equipment and other similar equipment shall be provided by the school.

Evening classes shall not meet on school holidays, during school vacations, or during the days when day school may be closed due to inclement weather.

Accent On Youth, Says Candidate Sullivan

Top-flight Democrats in Mass., habitually accustomed to writing off the 5th Congressional District, as inviolately Republican, are switching their viewpoint this year and are now concentrating their attention on a refreshing newcomer to the political scene, a rising Lowell attorney who is attracting wide support by his youthful magnetism and popular appeal as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 5th District.

Ostensibly sensing that he was the best chance of any Democrat in years to score an upset of national significance, William H. Sullivan the personable legal light from Lowell, is being tabbed by astute observers as a young phenomenon with all the necessary qualifications to convince the voters that the 5th District need not forever be the irremovable political fixture it has been for more than two generations.

No longer an area of villages and farms, of cross-roads and crackbarrels, the 5th District of today represents an integrated segment of cosmopolitan communities and Attorney Sullivan is quick to realize that it cannot prosper further on political philosophies which belong in the Smithsonian Institute. This is a new age, he believes, a new challenge, calling for a new defending champion, a new perspective and especially new blood for direct transfusion into the economic lifeline of this proud section of a great country.

A cultivated gentleman of the Senator Kennedy school of thought Bill Sullivan, with freedom of conviction and independence of action, views the future of the 5th District through optimistic eyes despite the spectre of a depression hanging precariously on the Republican horizon.

The promotion of progress and the preservation of prosperity and prestige these are the principles upon which the Sullivan candidacy is based -- these and the stimulating assets of invincible youth.

The following is a list of subjects to be made available this year, the possible evenings of instruction, and the table number for registration purposes.

ORGANIZATION NEWS

ROTARY

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club was held last Wednesday at the Masonic Hall with president Henry Foster presiding. After a salute to the flag led by Ralph Swanson, and the invocation offered by Richard Harding, the group sat down to a luncheon.

After the luncheon, Fred D. Cain introduced the following visiting Rotarians: from Woburn, Dexter Johnson and J. V. Greenan; from Reading, Walter Hopkins and C. Wood; from Stoneham, Charles Flahive; and from Lowell, former Wilmington Superintendent of Schools Steve Bean. Dr. Chernoff introduced his guest Ed. Johannan, John Gleason introduced his son Paul, and F. D. Cain introduced his brother Jimmy.

John Nitchie spoke on attendance, and announced that the club had 100% for the past week. He thanked the boys and asked them to keep up the good work, as they were in an attendance contest with the Stoneham Club. John Gleason spoke on the Poland Spring convalescence. It appears that Wilmington will have good representation at this meeting.

The president announced that the next Board of Directors meeting will be held at the home of Ralph Swanson, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 24.

Joe Babbitt brought before the club the importance of backing the coming horse show. The event will take place at Rotary Park, on Sept. 27. As all proceeds of this affair are going to be put into a scholarship school loan fund, an ad book will be made up, and Mr. Babbitt asked the co-operation of the members in selling and taking ads.

The program, arranged by Bill Stevens, brought before the group Al Pipp, who was introduced by President Henry Foster. Mr. Pipp is associated with the American Mutual Insurance Co., and is a graduate of Boston University. He is at the head of the personnel training program of his company. Mr. Pipp gave a short talk on the rehabilitation of injured persons. After his talk he showed a film of an actual case of the rehabilitation of a man who had an arm injury which necessitated amputation. The talk and the film were very interesting, and appreciated by the group.

D. A. V. Hi-Lites

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 10, Chapter 106 presented a variety show for the patients at the Bedford V. A. hospital.

The production was held in the hospital auditorium with an enthusiastic audience of 300 in attendance. The cast was studded with Wilmington talent, among them were Pat Gatta, Marion Dawson, Peter Moore, Lennie Gustou and many others.

A very talented group from Gloucester, the Gardner Perry Dancers, were also featured. Music was under the direction of Johnny D'Amore, with his orchestra. The entire production was under the direction of Commander Walter Gustus of Chapter 106.

106 auxiliary was on hand to supply refreshments to the audience. Many members of both chapter and auxiliary were on hand to help distribute the refreshments.

E. Elmer Baldwin, National V.A.V.S. officer at the hospital said it was one of the most outstanding events of the year at the hospital. The staff and the patients were most appreciative and hoped that it would become an annual affair.

There will be a regular business meeting of Chapter 106 at the headquarters on Grove Ave., on Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, at 8 p.m. Important plans for the coming fall season will be discussed. Every member should make a special effort to attend.

Rotary To Hear Railroad Representative

The Wilmington Rotary Club will hear Clifford A. Somerville, Past Chairman of the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Boston, when the members gather September 17 at 12:15 p.m. at Masonic Hall, Wilmington. General Representative of the Boston and Maine Railroad, Mr. Somerville will show and comment on a railroad film and will speak on pertinent problems of the transportation industry.

Mrs. Lorraine Thorp of 94 Aldrich Rd., has returned home after being confined at the Choate Memorial Hosp.

Her friends and neighbors wish to extend their welcome home.

VFW Social

The monthly social of VFW Post 2458 will be held Sat., Sept. 20, at the post quarters. Co-chairman of the affair will be Eugene Brown and Hank Filippone. A rather unusual menu will consist of pizzas, shrimp, rolls, garlic sticks and tossed salad.

A door prize and the monthly drawing will highlight an evening of entertainment and dancing. Admission fee is only one dollar and the general public is invited.

WCS INSTALLS NEW OFF.

The dimly lit sanctuary of the new Methodist Church was the scene of the installation of the Women's Society of Christian Service on Wed., Sept. 3, at 8 p.m.

Each officer was presented a corsage by the Sec. of Spiritual Life, Mrs. Paul F. Delaney, as they were about to enter the church. Silent meditation preceded the opening hymn sung by the members. As the strains of "This is Our Father's House" was sung, the lights gradually came on all over the sanctuary.

Rev. Richard E. Harding led the inspiring service by reading the following: "The purpose of Women's Society of Christian Service which is to unite all the women in the church in Christian living and service, to help develop and support Christian work among women and children all around the world, and to take part in such service activities as will strengthen the local church and improve civic, community and world conditions."

After the installation, each officer was presented a program with a prayer card by Rev. Harding. With lights dimmed and in silent meditation, the group left the sanctuary to proceed to the recreation building for the first meeting of the season.

An extensive program is planned by the president, Mrs. Albert E. Kitchener and her executive board in order to meet their obligations to Missions and to equip the kitchen in the new church.

Some of the highlights are: sending Miss Carolyn Margaret Alangille of Wesley Church in Worcester, to Algeria, Africa, for the three years for foreign missions; A luncheon on Sept. 17; Consecration Week starts Sun., Sept. 28 with co-chairman the Circles serving a coffee hour in honor of Bishop Lord and Mrs. Lord, following the services.

On Sun., Oct. 4, the official board will serve a social tea following the open house and afternoon vespers; Fri., and Sat., Dec. 5, and 6, are the dates set for the annual church fair Dec. 10, a X-mas tree party; Feb., through the Tetons with the MacDougalls; the 14th, a food sale, and on Feb. 28 a Pop's Concert will be presented to the people of Wilmington under the direction of Mrs. Wilbur S. Staveley.

On March 6, a tot's and teen's fashion show; on April 17, a pageant of brides and a Tom Thumb wedding; May 16 and 17, a group of students from Foreign lands will be the guests of Women's Society; and on May 23, the garden festival.

A sample party was enjoyed by members and friends after the business meeting. Mrs. Paul F. Delaney was in charge of the Sunday Worship At New Wilmington Methodist Church, 10:30 A.M.

10:30 AM

The Sunday Morning worship service at the Wilmington Methodist Church will be held at 10:30 am. The response of the members and friends of the church and community has been overwhelming to this single service of worship in the new church. The Rev. Richard E. Harding will bring the message this coming Sunday morning and will be assisted in the service of worship by Rev. Richard MacFarland, newly appointed Student pastor to the local church. The Senior choir under the leadership of Mrs. W. T. Staveley will sing as its anthem: "Lauda Anima" by Andrews, and Mrs. Staveley will play "Variations of Jerusalem the Golden" by Spark for the organ prelude; "Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide" on the chancel chimes as the introit; "Andante" from the sixth Symphony by Tchaikowsky as the organ offertory and "Choral Paraphrase on Gardiner" by Whitford for the postlude.

The congregations these past Sundays have been greatly inspired by the music in the church under the leadership of party and Circle 2 served refreshments.

Newly installed officers include pres., Mrs. Albert Kitchener; vice pres., Mrs. Carl Backman; recording secretary and secretary of promotion Mrs. Robert Jayes; treasurer, Mrs. Ariel R. Wood.

Following are secretaries of various designations: Mrs. Pearce Tuffin, Christian social relations and local church activities; Mrs. Edward M. Klempa, student work; Mrs. Frank McLean, youth work; Mrs. Paul Delaney, spiritual life; Mrs. Bernard Bacon, childrens work; Mrs. Harold Simes, literature; Mrs. Dorothy Rice, supplies; Mrs. Chester Burris, status of women; Mrs. F. J. Irwin, remembrance committee; Mrs. Angus Suggs, press correspondent.

Circle chairmen are, Circle 1, Mrs. Pearce Tuffin, Mrs. Bernard Bacon; Circle 2, Mrs. Paul Delaney, Mrs. Roland Hinzman; Circle 3, Mrs. Robert Michelson; Circle 4, Mrs. John Elia, Mrs. Harold Moore, Mrs. Parker Hodgdon; Circle 5, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Arthur MacKellville; Circle 6, Mrs. Walter Mercer, Mrs. Paul Bodenstein.

New auto speed records, ranging up through 265 miles per hour, were established by American drivers on the world's major tracks in the past 12 months.

Sea Explorer's Launch Boat

The Sea Explorer's of Wilmington have finally launched their boat in the Merrimack River in the northern section of Lowell. They have taken a few trial runs up the river to see if the boat is shipshape.

Thursday evening, Sept. 11, they held their meeting aboard ship with the mates dressed in work uniforms. Mr. Butler, Chief Scout of Lowell was present.

They plan to take an overnight trip at a later date, and hope to have a few more adult scout leaders in attendance.

This fine organization wishes to thank the Ford dealers of our town for their fine support. All employees of this firm from the mechanic to the owner deserve praise, for if it were not for them, it never would have been possible to launch this boat.

Wildwood Parents' Club

On Sept. 22, it has been planned for the Wildwood Parents' Club to have their first meeting along with their annual get acquainted supper.

A full evening has been planned and it is hoped that a large membership will be in attendance. If you have not been contacted for tickets, which entitle the bearer to the supper, please contact Mrs. Barbara Goddard, OL 8-2852.

Menu consists of: home made baked beans, ham, potato salad, cole slaw, coffee and dessert.

Remember, this club is organized to benefit the children of this school, and a project such as this is one means of obtaining money to help them. So don't forget the date. Be sure and get your ticket.

Come to this first meeting and see what has been planned for the coming year. Big events have been planned, and we need your support to make them a success. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Another reminder that the room banner will be awarded to the room with the most parents in attendance at the business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Fly To Arizona

Approximately 50 friends and relatives were on hand at the recent going-away party held for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reynolds of North St.

A buffet supper was served to the guests in the garden of the Reynolds home, under gaily colored lights. Highlight of the evening came when the couple was presented with an appropriately decorated cake and a money tree. The gala affair which was a surprise to the couple, was planned for them by their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds who have been residents of Wilmington since 1940 left last week for Mesa, Arizona where they will make their home.

It's drying tears or a running nose

And getting meals and ironing clothes.

It's, "Mom get me this," or "Please do that,"

And "Where are my shoes," and "I can't find my hat."

At work its the same with a different slant,

As they listen to patients and doctors rant.

It's making beds with a patient in it,

(I'll get you a drink in just a minute.)

It's pushing a wheel chair instead of a carriage:

At present your work is your partner in marriage.

III

It's moving and tugging and lifting and hauling.

At home you'd regard these tasks as gnawing.

"Nurse get me a blanket," or "Get me a pill:"

"Do I have to have those needles still?"

Mr. J. goes to X-ray, Mrs. K. to O. R.

Five patients go home but in come six more.

It's hustle and bustle as each day starts,

But when it's all over there's always the charts.

In surgery things have been pushing all day,

Getting instruments out, putting them away.

Folding linen, making up kits,

It's running and pushing and hauling and bending,

And standing in one spot for hours on ending.

At the end of the day when you're ready to crawl,

Dear Mrs. Downs,

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks for your thoughtfulness in sending me copies of the Wilmington Crusader, which I have enjoyed very much.

It is a wonderful feeling to know that the people back home are interested in the servicemen and take time to let them know they are not forgotten. I would again like to express my appreciation for this service that has kept my friends and home town near me.

At this time I would like to inform you that I am being reassigned to the 1888th AACSB Insl Sq, Mitchell AFB, New York, and will depart Germany on the 15th of September 1958.

News Of Local Servicemen

Marine Pfc. Robert L. Madore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Madore of 97 Boutwell St., recently participated in "Operation Land-ho" during the first two weeks in September, on the island of Formosa, with units of the 3rd Marine Division.

The operation was a practice problem in conjunction with the Nationalist Chinese Armed Forces to develop proficiency in planning and conducting combined operations.

The Marines landed at Liso on southern Formosa with land, sea and air support using all the latest tactics and weapons of the Marine Corps. Units of the powerful U. S. Seventh Fleet carried the Marines from their base at Ookinawa.

Daniel V. Hayes, radioman third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Fournier of 8 Fitz Terr., aboard the attack cargo ship USS Washburn, participated in an amphibious training Camp Pendleton, Calif., during exercise in the San Diego area the first part of September.

Retarded Children News

Every now and then, in a town such as Wilmington, a project is carried on beneath the very eyes of the community, quietly, purposefully, with no fanfare, yet with a purpose so far-reaching, even the townspeople themselves are unaware of the real reason for its existence.

Such a project is the Summer Day Camp for Retarded Children. This Day Camp, held on the grounds of the First Congregational Church of Wakefield three days each week, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 9 am to 12 noon, is the first attempt of the East Middlesex Asso. for Retarded Children to give these youngsters, perhaps their only opportunity, thus far, of enjoying a happy summer of combined recreation and social training.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Marguerite Dawe, of Wilmington, this camp has been in operation since June 30 of this year. Mrs. Dawe, assisted by Mr. David Levin of Newtonville, teaches the children simple hand-crafts, and directs them in organized play. Others on the staff are Miss Elizabeth Ann Osborne of 120 Forest St. Winchester; Miss Betsy Shaffer of 79 Pond St., Winchester; Miss Janet Tucker, 189 Salem St., Wakefield; and Miss Barbara Showack, of 9 Richardson Ave., Wakefield. Miss Showack, a tireless young worker, is giving serious thought to teaching retarded children, and intends furthering her understanding of them, by taking a special course of study at Boston Univ. this fall.

EMARC, Inc., not only provides these capable instructors and helpers, but also arranges transportation and supplies refreshments for the children.

Only those who have had the care and responsibility of a retarded child, can fully appreciate what the establishment of a Summer Day Camp really has meant for these youngsters, some of whom have never known what it means to attend classes of any kind; or play with others of their own age. To such little ones, the Day Camp has presented an entirely new world. Just the idea of being expected to report three days a week, of performing simple routine tasks, or having to conform to a certain amount of discipline, of playing games with others, and most important of all, of sensing the real meaning of companionship for the first time in their lives, has meant, in the truest sense of the phrase, "heaven on earth" to them.

Any one who ever doubted the capacity of a retarded child to enjoy to the fullest extent, the benefits of a day camp, should have stopped by the snow fence surrounding the play area of the rear of the church, any Mon., Wed., or Fri. morning. There he would have seen, in action, one of the finest examples of human understanding; and as he watched, he would also have sensed what the EMARC is striving to accomplish in their effort to help these youngsters find a degree of happiness. He would, undoubtedly, have observed that, in the name of human dignity, EMARC is determined that these children, however handicapped, be given the opportunity to find their niche in the life God intended for them.

This Summer Day Camp is but one of the many projects sponsored by EMARC, a non-profit organization made up of parents and friends of retarded children from nine towns, including Wilmington, Burlington, Reading, North Reading, Wakefield, Stoneham, Winchester, Woburn and Melrose. It was designed and instigated for the sole purpose of helping retarded children. With this high motive, EMARC will continue to function as long as there is one child in the entire area, who, handicapped by any degree of retardation, finds it difficult to gain a foothold on the ladder of life.

Mexico's population has doubled in three decades to reach more than 30 million.

Plans For Weeks Of Consecration Made At Wilmington Methodist Church

The program for the week of Consecration at the New Wilmington Methodist Church has been set and will begin on Saturday evening, Sept. 27 and continue through Sunday, Sept. 28. A cordial invitation has been extended to the community to attend this program. The Consecration Week banquet will be held on Saturday evening, Oct. 4 at 6:30 pm in the vestry of the new church. This will be a turkey dinner with reservations costing $1.50. Following the dinner, the church architect, Arland A. Durham, will speak on the topic, "What Means These Stones." For those persons unable to attend the dinner, a cordial invitation is extended to them to come to the sanctuary of the new church at 8 pm at which time Dr. Dirlam will speak.

The final day of the consecration program will be World-Wide Communion on Sunday, Oct. 5. Mr. Harding has announced two services for this Sunday, one at 9 am and the second at the regular hours of 10:30 am. These will be the first services of Holy Communion in the New Church building. At 4 pm that afternoon the Consecration Vespers will take place in the new sanctuary. The choir of the Wesley Foundation of Methodist Youth from the University of Massachusetts and Amherst College will present a program of sacred music and negro spirituals. This program will be fitting climax to the special week of services and everyone is invited to attend.

On Wednesday, Oct. 1 at 8 pm. A Service of Appreciation to all of the churches of the New England Conference whose gifts and prayers have helped so much in the building of the new church will be held. Dr. Lemuel K. Stolen Car?

At 5 p.m. on September 8, Joseph Camara of 218 Burlington Ave., reported to Officer Charles Dolan that his 56 Ford had been tampered with.

A window in the vehicle was broken and gas had been siphoned from the tank. A flashlight had been taken from the glove compartment and there was an unfamiliar dent in one fender.

Mr. Camara is of the opinion that someone took his car for a "joyride" and later returned it. Officer Dolan is investigating the incident.

28433 Reg. THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS Land Court

To the Town of Wilmington, a municipal corporation located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Angelina R. Butters and Myer Weinberg both of said Wilmington; Katherine F. Ladd of Boston, in the County of Suffolk; City Institution for Savings a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Lowell, in said County of Middlesex; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Manoel R. Amaro of Cambridge, in the County of Middlesex, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Wilmington, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by Middlesex Avenue 168.69 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of Angelina R. Butters 184.20 feet; Southerly by land now or formerly of Katherine F. Ladd 167 feet; Westerly by land now or formerly of Myer Weinberg 195.22 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lowell in the County of Middlesex where a copy of the plan filed with said petition is deposited, on or before the fourteenth day of October next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of September in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-eight.

Attest with Seal of said Court. (Seal)
